

THE CHANGING FACE OF MISSION

Conference at Cornerstone on Saturday 10th March 2018

You will be familiar with Bible passages such as Matthew 28 v 16 to 21 - The Great Commission. Verse 19 says: "Therefore go and make disciples of all nations", and John 20 v 21 where Jesus says: "Peace be with you; as the Father has sent Me, I also send you." Your church along with all other churches is called to be involved in mission both at home and overseas.

Maybe you are involved by supporting mission agencies or/and sending your own teams with direct and indirect prayer support. Maybe you find it difficult to stretch your existing resources to support overseas mission. Without doubt the way we do mission is changing and many agencies are having to adapt to a new way of "doing" mission.

However you do mission it is important to get it right because what you do affects peoples lives both in the immediate future and for eternity. Let me challenge you today to think long and hard about your involvement in mission. More than that we would like to help you with that process through a one day seminar. This is a little different to other seminars you any have been to. It is church driven not mission driven and we are not supporting or suggesting you support any particular agency.

Our notable speakers are people who have a wealth of experience in hands-on mission work. Their vision for the future will challenge your concept of mission and its role in the church today.

We are not asking for any money just come along and get involved. It would be great to see you there.
